

Privacy Policy

Gnext Organics

Effective Date: 12 September 2026

Gnext Organics respects your privacy and is committed to protecting the personal information you provide when you visit or use our website. This Privacy Policy explains what information may be collected through our website, how that information may be used, and the choices available to you. By using our website, you acknowledge that you have read and understood this Privacy Policy.

1. Information We May Collect

Depending on how you use our website, we may collect information that you voluntarily provide, such as your name, email address, phone number, WhatsApp/contact details, business or organisation details, information included in your enquiry or message, and any other information you choose to provide when contacting us. We may also automatically receive limited technical information when you visit the website, such as IP address, browser type, device type, operating system, website pages visited, date and time of your visit, and general usage and technical information.

2. How We Use Your Information

We may use the information we collect to respond to your enquiries and requests, provide information about our services, communicate with you regarding your enquiry, improve our website and services, maintain website security, prevent misuse, fraud, or unauthorised activity, and comply with applicable legal and regulatory requirements. We will use your information only for legitimate business purposes and in accordance with applicable laws.

3. Information Sharing

Gnext Organics does not sell or rent your personal information to third parties. We may share information where reasonably necessary with service providers who help us operate or maintain the website, technology or hosting providers, communication service providers, professional advisers where necessary, and government authorities or law-enforcement agencies when required by applicable law. Where third parties process information on our behalf, we expect them to handle such information appropriately and securely.

4. Cookies and Similar Technologies

Our website may use cookies or similar technologies to improve website functionality, understand website usage, and enhance your browsing experience. Cookies are small files stored on your device by a website. You can manage or disable cookies through your browser settings. However, disabling certain cookies may affect some website functionality.

5. Third-Party Services and Links

Our website may contain links to third-party websites, platforms, or services. These third parties have their own privacy policies and terms. Gnext Organics is not responsible for the privacy practices, security, or content of third-party websites. We recommend reviewing the privacy policy of any third-party website before providing personal information.

6. Data Security

We take reasonable measures to protect personal information against unauthorised access, alteration, disclosure, misuse, or destruction. However, no method of transmitting or storing information electronically can be guaranteed to be completely secure. Therefore, we cannot guarantee absolute security of information transmitted through the internet.

7. Data Retention

We retain personal information only for as long as reasonably necessary for the purposes described in this Privacy Policy, to provide requested services, maintain appropriate business records, resolve disputes, or comply with applicable legal and regulatory obligations. The period of retention may vary depending on the nature of the information and the purpose for which it was collected.

8. Your Privacy Rights

Subject to applicable law, you may have rights regarding your personal information, including the right to request information about the personal data we hold about you, request correction of inaccurate or incomplete information, request deletion of personal information where legally permitted, withdraw consent where processing is based on consent, and raise a concern regarding the handling of your personal information. To exercise any applicable privacy rights, you may contact us using the contact details provided on our website.

9. Children's Privacy

Our website is not intended to knowingly collect personal information from children without appropriate consent. If you believe that a child has provided personal information to us without appropriate permission, please contact us so that we can take reasonable steps to address the matter.

10. Changes to This Privacy Policy

We may update this Privacy Policy from time to time to reflect changes in our website, services, business practices, or applicable laws. When we make changes, we will update the Effective Date shown at the beginning of this Privacy Policy. We encourage visitors to review this page periodically for the latest version.

11. Governing Law

This Privacy Policy shall be interpreted and applied in accordance with the applicable laws and regulations of India. Any disputes relating to this Privacy Policy shall be subject to the applicable jurisdiction in India.

12. Contact Us

If you have questions, concerns, or requests regarding this Privacy Policy or the handling of your personal information, please contact Gnext Organics through the contact details provided on our website.
